THEY TALKED IT OVER

Board of Health Meets With Attorneys.

CHANGED THE TIME OF MEETING

From Night to Afternoon, and There Were No Reporters to Disturb Their Peaceful Meditations—Prepared to Answer Council—Health Officer's Annual Report.

There was a double excuse for holding the regular meeting of the board of health at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon instead of last night as was announced, although the members of that body seemed desirous of impressing upon the minds of the reporters one cause alone. That was the fact that the southern Columbiana county bar were booked for dinner at the residence of P. M. Smith, Wellsville, and J. J. Purinton, Clerk Grosshans and Solicitor Clark wanted to attend.

The other reason for the rather previous session is derived from the information of some of the more talkative, to the effect that Colonel Hill and Solicitor Clark desired to talk over that council matter in which the board is ordered to appear at city hall on Monday evening with their books, for investigation. Whether Huston's antediluvian idea of barring reporters from the session was adopted is unanswered; but the fact remains that a News Review reporter found both doors leading to the place of meeting in mayor's office securely locked and only by standing his ground and repeating his effort secured an entrance. The board discovered that they had but to pass an unimportant motion, and decided to admit the argus-eyed demon who waited outside the portals.

The board met with all members present except Rowe and proceeded to business. The following bills were ordered paid: J. T. King, $50; Alex Coleman, $9; David Brookes, $1; George C. Murphy, $1.25; Bon Ton store, 98 cents; S. G. Hard, $3.25; C. B. Ogden, $41.66. The bills of Murphy, Bon Ton and Hard were for clothing and a mattress furnished a family where contagion compelled the sanitary policeman to burn similar articles, and Doctor Ogden's bill was for services as health officer during January and February.

Then came Health Officer Ogden's annual report and it was a large one, a document of nine closely written pages.

After reminding the board that he labored under disadvantages in preparing the report he states that the total number of births for the year is 312, males 170 and females 142. Of deaths there were 165, of which 82 were males and 83 females, computing the population at 14,000 gives a death rate for the year of 11.8 per thousand, which compares favorably with other cities. The births were designated as follows:

March—Males, 16; females, 11.
April—Males, 22; females, 13.
May—Males, 19; females, 10.
June—Males, 10; females, 9.
July—Males, 12; females, 13.
August—Males, 17; females, 10.
September—Males, 12; females, 12.
October—Males, 9; females, 10.
November—Males, 14; females, 12.
December—Males, 11; females, 15.
January, 1895—Males, 14; females, 15.

February—Males, 14; females, 12.
The record of deaths appears as follows:

March—Males, 15; females, 13.
April—Males, 8; females, 3.
May—Males, 1; females, 3.
June—Males, 3; females, 6.
July—Males, 7; females, 9.
August—Males, 7; females, 9.
September—Males, 4; females, 3.
October—Males, 2; females, 7.
November—Males, 4; females, 6.
December—Males, 9; females, 6.
January, 1895—Males, 17; females, 8.
February—Males, 5; females, 5.

After a lengthy report of the causes of death, the health officer shows that the most fatal months were March and January, the number of children dying being especially marked. Consumption was the most fatal disease, claiming 20 victims, while 10 deaths from accident is considered remarkable. Not a single death from scarlet fever, and only one from diphtheria shows the efficiency of sanitary regulations. The large number of cases of consumption causes the doctor to suggest that the Michigan system of educating the friends and relatives of consumptives be considered by the board. He also recommends the introduction of physical culture into the schools, and asserts that the sanitary condition of the rooms is good. The present method of dumping garbage is condemned, and he urges that the question be given consideration. The doctor would like to see a garbage furnace constructed, believing that to be the best plan. The milk supply is touched by the words that 22 licensed wagons each day distribute 690 gallons. All samples have stood the test of the department, which means that the city gets good milk.

Then came the considering of the action taken by council regarding the alleged faithlessness and extravagance of the board. Each member had been served with a document notifying him to appear before council on Monday evening next and show why the board individually or collectively should not be removed from office. Just what was said on this matter is doubtful. The dreaded newspaper man had not yet arrived on the scene, and none outside the board except the proverbial ears attached to the walls heard the remarks of the members or the unfolding of tales and discussion of plans. It is claimed that little or nothing was said, and that, although Colonel Hill was present, he did not advise the board. Somebody evidently did, and told the board just what to do or had done so before hand, as the board was in possession of valuable legal pointers and seemed in a wonderfully cheerful frame of mind. This inference was borne out by statements made after the reporter had gained admission to the sacred precincts, and the board was told to fear not the wrath of the city fathers. The thunder of the councilmen was in possession of the board and with the knowledge the sanitary people had just been given they were told that there was no doubt but what they could lick the eternal stuff of their opponents.

Solicitor Clark told the board that if the matter came to a prosecution in court he would be compelled to take the side of council, and there was sadness in his tone as he spoke. The board were confident that the case would never come to trial, and metaphorically patted themselves on their official backs. They decided upon motion to appoint a committee of two to take charge of the council matter and conduct it to suit themselves. Messrs. Thomas and Purinton will accordingly appear before council on Monday evening next, and answer to the charges filed. The board empowered them to secure legal advice, but no lawyer was named.

The salary of health officer was discussed and Mr. Purinton suggested $25 a month, that amount being paid in several other cities, although others pay more. Mr. Chambers referred sarcastically to an "undue expenditure of public money" but thought the amount was about right. A motion to make Health Officer Ogden's salary $25 carried. And at 5:20 o'clock the board adjourned.

MAY BE SUBMERGED.

River Covering the Towboat Pacific. Greatest Losses at This Point.

Although reports sent from this city to Pittsburg papers regarding the alleged loss of the model barges and damaging of the Charlie Hook are untrue, the damage done by the ice is greater than was at first estimated.

The rising waters have made it difficult for the crew of the Pacific to work, and the boat is still in a dangerous position. The damage done to the Pacific will amount to several thousand dollars. She was built some years ago at a cost of $30,000 and considered worth $15,000 at a recent date. The boat was insured with a Pittsburg company for two-thirds its value. It is feared that nothing can be done to save the Pacific, and that she will be a total loss.

The report was sent out from here that the model barges Bismarck and Chunk, at Line Island, both heavily laden, were down, but visitors to the place say such is not the case. The damage done to the barges was little. The steamboat Charlie Hook was valued at $15,000, and, although damaged but little, is being repaired by the agency in which she is insured.

A telegram from the Wheeling wharfmaster states that the ice which gorged at this point passed there without damage, although they had a hard time saving the wharfboat. A big chain which held the boat snapped like a piece of twine before the mighty rush of ice.

Talked With Sachleben.

J. J. Purinton was in Pittsburg yesterday in conference with William Sachleben, the St. Louis wheelman who is to search for Frank Lenz. He had hope that he could find the missing young man, and hoped to find the right path laid out in the instructions he got at New York this morning. He will go to Constantine, and from there through the Black sea to Batoum, Erzeroum and Tabriz. Then the search will begin.

BURNED TO THE GROUND

The Plant of the Akron China Company Gone.

FIRE STARTED THIS MORNING

It Raged Fiercely For a Time, and the Department Could do Nothing to Save It—The Works Were Destroyed. Nothing But the Kilns Being Left.

Special to the News Review.

AKRON, March 2.—The East Liverpool people in Akron awoke this morning to find their commodious and convenient pottery in ashes, and their investment spread through the atmosphere in smoke.

The alarm of fire was sounded at 1 o'clock this morning, and in a few minutes the department was on the scene. The first company to arrive could not handle the blaze, and it took but a short time to bring more firemen to the scene. They worked hard, but the fire had so great a start that nothing could be done. The packing shed, where the flames originated, was soon transformed to a crackling, glaring furnace, sending out a powerful heat, and keeping the firemen from doing effective work. It quickly spread from the packing department to the other buildings, and as the myriads of sparks went heavenward the stockholders and employees began to realize that their factory would soon be no more. In an incredibly short space of time the whole plant was enveloped in the burning blanket, and as the fact became assured that the place was doomed the sorrow could be seen reflected in many faces from the flames of the burning factory. The warehouse went almost as soon as the other building, and the kiln sheds were a mass of ruins almost before the crowd realized that the plant would be consumed. When the walls of the warehouse fell it was thought that someone had been caught, but as there was no one missing the report was found to be incorrect.

Soon after the fire was over the officials of the company conferred with the police, and it was developed that all parties concerned believed the loss was the result of an incendiary as there have been a number of these fires within the last year. The mere fact of the fire starting in the packing shed was taken as proof that some cause other than anything natural was at the bottom of it all. The police were instructed to investigate, and in a few hours had placed a young man under arrest. They claim to have sufficient evidence to warrant his detention, and there may be more interesting developments this evening.

The plant is a total loss, all the buildings being destroyed. The improvements completed a few weeks ago went up with the remainder of the factory. The insurance was $15,500, which will not stand well against a loss that will not be a cent less than $50,000. The company had not, at noon, decided on a plan for the future, and it is not known whether the plant will be rebuilt. It is possible that another factory will be erected at once, but that is a matter which cannot be decided at present.

The original plant cost $50,000 several years ago, and since that time a warehouse, office and two kilns were erected, making it all that it could be desired as a factory. When erected the plant consisted of two large two-story buildings and a kiln shed of one story. It was situated within the fire limit, and was on the banks of a small creek. The people in Akron have manifested the liveliest interest in pottery since the strangers came to town, and behind the enterprise was enough money to build several duplicate plants without feeling the expenditure. The main loss is in the time which the management so badly needed. A good season this year would have put them well on their feet, and greatly advanced the interests of the stockholders. Among the chief losses will be a contract for $50,000 in ware, and several other valuable arrangements with dealers.

The news of the fire was received with sorrow in this city where so many of the interested parties are so well known. The news flew rapidly over the city this morning, and all sorts of rumors were floating around. The small amount of insurance carried by the company will undoubtedly be a source of surprise and the authenticity of that part of the report is doubted. Warren McCain will go to Akron tonight to look after the loss occasioned by the burning of the cooper shop. As near as he can estimate, it will be $600.

Lewis Clark Dead.

Lewis Clark, a young man who was known to a great many people of this city, having been the driver for T. B. Murphy, died at the home of a relative in Butler last night, Mr. Murphy being notified at once. He has been ill for some time with what seemed to be the grip, but which developed into typhoid fever. He became so ill on the way home, a hamlet near Butler, that he stopped at the home of his uncle, and in a few days was dead. He was an honest young man, square in his dealings with mankind, and his death will be deeply regretted.

FEAST AND SPEECH.

Southern Columbiana County Bar Association in Wellsville.

The home of Attorney P. M. Smith, Wellsville, was the scene of a gathering last night, representing a great part of the brains of Columbiana county, when the members of the bar association responded to the invitation of their president to attend a 6 o'clock dinner.

There were 17 attorneys present when the guests sat down to dinner, about 7 o'clock, the absentees being Attorneys Reiley, of Wellsville, McDonald, of East Liverpool, and Ashford and Ferrall, of Salineville. After a feast fit for the gods, President Smith called for remarks. Attorney Lones spoke of the mode of practicing law in the south and the ridiculous idea of all the justices of the peace in a county meeting at certain times at the county seat and acting as judges in criminal cases. Colonel Hill amused his hearers by telling of the early practice of law in this city when his father, Sanford C. Hill, was justice of the peace here. At that time it was necessary to send to Wellsville for a lawyer, because there were none in this city, and if the case was important an attorney was brought from Lisbon. Then the whole county population turned out, and trials resembled mass meetings. Messrs. Clark and Mackall caused many a laugh by relating their experiences while visiting Grover Cleveland in Washington, while E. D. Marshall was called on to explain his explanation of how he shot two deer with one bullet on Cheat mountain. Secretary W. M. Hill, J. J. Purinton, J. H. Brookes, H. E. Grosshans, F. E. Grosshans, George Y. Travis and W. A. Hill followed with remarks, and the most pleasant evening in the history of the bar association was ended.

The Thief Escaped.

A well-known resident, who would not have his name made public for the world, had an experience with a man in search of coal last night. The coal was stored near the kitchen door, but that did not prevent the thief from filling a bag, and attempting to get away. He was heard, however, and the owner pursued. Down the backyard they raced, the thief going through the gate only a few feet in front of his pursuer, but he was quick enough to slam the gate, and run down the alley. When the man arose there was a dull pain across that portion of his anatomy covered by the lower pockets of his vest, and the bad man was gone.

He Needs Disciplining.

When car No. 33 was going out Sixth street at a high rate of speed yesterday afternoon a man stepped off the pavement and signalled the motorman. No attention was paid to the stranger, but he wanted to ride on that car and caught the handle. The next instant he was being dragged along the street, and about 100 feet was passed over before he succeeded in getting on the car. Fortunately the man was not injured, although his trousers were covered with mud. The gong was repeatedly sounded by a passenger on the rear platform, but the car did not stop until Jackson street was reached.

Death of Mrs. Robert McGrew.

Mrs. Robert McGrew died at her residence in East End at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, aged 67 years. She leaves eight children, three sons and five daughters. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Christian church.

Killed at Martin's Ferry.

Word from Martin's Ferry this afternoon says that a man supposed to be Jacob Tice, Calcutta road, was killed today at that place.

Ninety-nine Conversions.

There was one conversion at the Christian church yesterday afternoon and one last night making in all 99. Rev. Slayter tonight will preach on "The Sun of Righteousness."

Watchmen in Wellsville.

Watchman Maple and Baggage-master Smith were ordered to Wellsville this morning to attend a meeting of all the railroad policemen. It was held in the reading room.

MUST VOTE ON LIGHTS

Solicitor Clark Hunts Up the Law.

THERE IS NO GETTING AROUND IT

The Statutes Say That the New Company Must Submit the Matter to a Vote of the People Before They Sell Electric Light in the City.

Solicitor Clark has been devoting some time to the new light company ordinance, and finds that the people must vote before the concern can do business.

At the last meeting of council the question was raised by the solicitor, but Doctor Marshall was so desirous of having the matter go through that it was not argued. As this virtually takes away the legality of the ordinance, and as the new company officials are earnest and pushing, it is likely that all the arrangements will be made at the next meeting.

Mercer Gone to Washington.

Winnie Mercer will be seen with the Washington team as usual this season, having left for the capital city last night. He held out against the management until the last moment, when it seemed that he would sign the $1,500 contract or spend the season in East Liverpool waiting for something to turn up. He will join the club this afternoon, go to Norfolk tonight, and be on the windy deep in a few hours bound for Charleston, where the club will remain three weeks.

They Want to Be a Justice.

Two justices of the peace will be elected in the city next month, and the various candidates are hustling for votes. Squire Rose wants another term, and ex-Mayor Morley believes that he could fill the place to perfection. William Beardmore, who was a squire for several years, thinks he has a good chance to win out against his opponents. The position of justice is remunerative, and there may be a few more applicants before the primaries come.

Ladies' Auxiliary.

The members of this association will make note that they are to assemble in the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium room on Saturday afternoon, March 9, at 3 o'clock sharp, in order to take part in the health exercises, the officials of the Young Men's Christian Association kindly granting the members of the Auxiliary the use of the rooms for that purpose. Members must present themselves promptly on time.

A Jubilee Service.

Throughout the bounds of the Pittsburgh synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church the jubilee year of said synod (fiftieth anniversary) is being observed. Arrangements have been made for jubilee services at the Evangelical Lutheran church of this place. The noted lecturer, Dr. W. Peschan, of Greensburg, Pa., will preach the English sermon and the pastor local the German. The time appointed is next Thursday evening.

And Chief Gill Smiles.

The report that Chief Gill is drawing pay from the city while canvassing is a lot of nonsense without one grain of truth. Officer Supplee, by order of council, is acting chief, and Mr. Gill is devoting his time to the canvas and he is making hay. The circulation of the report is calculated to injure Charley Gill, and is a despicable method of campaigning, which will receive condemnation on every hand.

The Mite Society.

Don't you fail to take in this delightful entertainment at the Grand Army rooms on Monday night, March 4. The program will be a very pleasing one, while a toothsome lunch will be set out by the ladies of the Woman's Relief corps. These socials have become very popular, and justly so, as the ladies in charge spare no pains to give pleasure to their guests. You will be accorded a royal welcome.

Convicted the Pair.

Attorney Brookes returned from Steubenville yesterday, where he was called to defend Smith and Russell, the Liverpool men charged with burglarizing the passenger station at Empire. The evidence in the main favored the prosecution, and the pair were found guilty. They were not sentenced yesterday, but will likely be presented with terms this afternoon.

Going to Akron.

C. A. Goddard, the photographer, is about to leave the city for Akron where he will enter the work.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

Ir Willie Wilson uses his tongue, now that he is the boss stamp flicker of the country, as much as when he was the boss reform orator, he will soon be having that useful organ renewed.

Ir there is any question worth mentioning that the women in session at Washington have not discussed, some one should let them know of it before they adjourn. It would break their dear hearts if they missed even one.

THE RIGHT TACK.

When the sundry civic bill paying the bounty to sugar growers was discussed, Senator Hoar made a strong point when he said:

"The beet sugar interest was entitled to the bounty, but the cane interests of Louisiana were not, as the senators had voted against the sugar bounty on the final vote in the senate, when a single vote would have retained the bounty. This was a binding obligation on Louisiana and it precluded her from coming here and claiming a bounty that their representatives had rejected. It had been said Louisiana was willing to yield her bounty in order to strike down the manufacturing of New England. He would not assert that this charge was true, as it was to serious a statement against the state. But whatever the reason, Louisiana had herself abandoned the bounty by her votes in the senate and she should not complain of this abolition now."

CHOOSE YE.

There is no reason why the Republican party should be made the ladder by which any unworthy man can climb to affluence at the coming municipal primaries, even though there may be one or two who anticipate a rush to their standards when they see fit to throw them to the breeze. The city cannot afford to place its affairs in the hands of incompetent men, neither can it afford to place these men where they can use the name of official position in East Liverpool as their only cloak of decency. The News Review has no information that politicians of this class will seek political preferment, but if they should the voters should whip them at the primaries, leaving no necessity for thrashing them at the regular election. There are good men in abundance, from whom equally good officials can be chosen, men who will use their powers for the welfare of the city, as they have for the advancement of themselves. They have earned the honor because of party service, and if there be justice in primary elections, none but good men will be given official positions.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

A Review of the Session Just Closing.

FINANCIAL LEGISLATION FAILED.

Appropriation Bills Too Were Threatened by Riders, But Finally Passed—Imports and Bills Hung Up In Both Branches.
Many Minor Measures Got Through.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Congress met on the 4th of December last with one imperative and perennial task, to frame and enact the various appropriation bills, without which the wheels of the government would be somewhat in the plight of the earth if the sun were to be extinguished. Next in importance was the financial question, for which no definite plan of settlement beyond many free silver bills and various individual schemes was then in view.
Several important bills came over as a heritage from the preceding session, each backed by earnest advocates, which were in expectation to be inevitably voted upon. Foremost among them were, in the house, the Nicaragua canal bill, reported by Representative Mallory (Fla.), from the committee on interstate and foreign commerce; the railroad pooling bill, indorsed by the same committee and reported by Representative Patterson (Tenn.), and the bill for a settlement of the indebtedness of the Union Pacific railroads, recommended by the committee on Pacific railroads and known as the Reilly bill, because Chairman Reilly of the committee was the chief mover in its framing. The Nicaragua canal project has not been able to secure a hearing in the house.
Largely through the enthusiastic efforts of Senator Morgan (Ala.) the senate bill was pushed to a vote in that body and passed.

The pooling bill was passed by the house early in the session, but drifted along in the senate until a few days from the end, when Senator Butler, who was charged by the commerce committee with its direction, made a determined effort to secure action, and the senate refused to consider it by a negative vote of 42 to 24 on the question of consideration. Strong opposition to the bill was developed in the house, and after a very sharp debate it was recommended to the committee without instruction. After a few days the committee reported back a plan which was a transposition of the provisions for the payment of the first mortgage and government mortgage in the original bill, but the last week of the session was at hand and the certainty that the senate could not find time to pass upon the measure impelled the committee on rules to refuse it a second grant of time.

Several important bills were placed on the calendar of the senate at the beginning of the term, handed down from the long session when they had been passed by the house. Prominent among them was the bill establishing a uniform system of bankruptcy, which had been called the Bailey bill in the house, which was pushed in the senate by Senator George and debated intermittently, but finally sidetracked to make way for more popular or more pressing legislation.
Another unsuccessful measure was the anti-option bill.

There were also on the senate calendar the four bills which the house had sent over on the day before the preceding adjournment, when it accepted the senate amendments to the tariff act, the bills to place on the free list sugar, coal, iron and barbed wire, but the attempt to secure consideration of the free sugar bill was negatived by a small majority and the opposition to the three others was so apparent that they have been allowed to pass into oblivion. Of greatest interest to the west were three territorial bills, so-called, to confer statehood on the territories of New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma. The first and second were passed by the house in the second session and were on the senate calendar, the third was reported to the house by the chairman of the committee on territories, Representative Wheller (Ala.), and was placed on the calendar, but neither of them have been advanced beyond their position at the beginning of the session.

The most interesting chapter in the history of the session is made by the attempts at financial legislation in both houses. When congress met it was known that Secretary Carlisle had been consulting with the president upon a scheme for reforming the currency and the national banking system. On the 11th of December Representative Springer (Ills.), the chairman of the committee on banking and currency, introduced a bill which contained the secretary's plan and which came to be known as the "administration" bill. The bill never came to a direct vote, for after a warm debate the house, on Jan. 9, by a vote of 162 to 135, declined to adopt a rule proposed by the committee on rules to fix a time for a vote and the bill was withdrawn.

Its withdrawal was followed by a message from the president explaining the dangers which beset the treasury and asking congress to authorize the secretary of the treasury to issue bonds payable in gold to maintain the gold reserve. On the day the message was read Representative Springer introduced the bill which has been known by his name, embodying the recommendation of the message. The banking and currency committee changed the plan by several amendments. The vote was taken in the house on Feb. 7.
Representative Reed (Mo.) offered a substitute which was voted for by the Republicans and the Democratic minority of the committee. Representatives Cox (Tenn.), Hall (Mo.), Black (Ga.) and Cobb (Ala.), presented another substitute based on the Carlisle bill, which received the support of a large faction of the Democrats. The Springer bill was defeated on a motion for its third reading by the vote of 162 to 135.

Next came the president's message detailing the contract made with a syndicate for a bond issue and asking the authority of congress to make the bonds payable in gold instead of coin.
As this message was referred to the committee on ways and means, Representative Wilson (W. Va.), who had become conspicuous as the leader of the tariff campaign in the long session, by virtue of his position as chairman of the committee, assumed the financial leadership. The committee reported a resolution to authorize an issue of $25,000, 275 3/4 per cent gold bonds payable in 30 years, with the stipulation that the proceeds of the issue should not be used to defray current expenses of the government, but this resolution after one day of debate in the house was beaten Feb.

14 by a vote of 167 to 120, almost one-half of the Democrats and one-third of the Republicans, in round numbers, voting for a third reading of it.

How the finance committee of the senate declined to report any of the various propositions laid before it for action until the middle of the last month of the session, when a bill introduced by Senator Jones (Ark.) for the coinage of all silver presented at the treasury and to be paid for at the market price of bullion in New York, was brought forward; how the silver men kept it before the senate one day, demonstrated their possession of a majority by several test rules and finally withdrew it to avoid antagonizing appropriation bills, and substituted a resolution of Senator Wolcott's declaring that the policy of the government should be for free coinage of silver and gold at a ratio of 16 to 1, a resolution which has not been voted upon, are matters of very recent history. No financial legislation has yet resulted from the host of bills introduced during the session with more or less weight of authority behind them.

The house committee on coinage, of which Representative Bland, the free silver advocate, was chairman, was nearly equally divided on the financial question so that it reported but one bill to the house, that to provide for coinage at the branch mint at Denver, which became a law.
The principal class of legislation accomplished by the short session was that making appropriations for the support of the government. Not a little general legislation was incorporated into the appropriation bills, and the efforts to engraft amendments upon them increased as the days of congress lessened and the failure of special measures became certain, so that the fate of some of the bills seemed to be threatened, but they were finally passed.
A number of measures of minor general importance, but important to different sections of the country, were passed.

BERING SEA AFFAIRS.

They Cause Animated Debate In the Senate—Deficiency Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Bering sea differences between the United States and Great Britain provoked an animated debate in the senate. Mr.
Cockrell had offered an amendment to the pending deficiency bill, appropriating $50,000 for the expenses of another commission of arbitration to adjust the claims of Canadian sealers seized by the United States. It was in line with the suggestions of a letter just received by Secretary Gresham. Mr. Sherman opposed this second arbitration, saying it was dishonorable and unwise that the United States had not paid these claims through the compromise of $425,000, heretofore urged by the president. Mr.
Sherman prophesied much trouble as a result of reopening this subject. Mr.
Hoar also stated that this foreshadowed another such reverse as the United States received at the Halifax award.

Mr. Morgan, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, and one of the United States commissioners at the Paris court of arbitration, declared that this plan to pay Great Britain a lump sum for the Canadian seizures was in violation of the honor of the United States. It had been proposed by the struggle of three hours to add various claims to it. The claims of California,
Oregon and Nevada against the great Britain through its emissaries here was systematically violating the Paris award. With great vehemence, he declared that the payment of $425,000 would be a disgrace to the United States and to the administration. The contest was so effective that Mr. Cockrell withdrew the proposition for another Bering sea arbitration commission.

The deficiency bill was kept steadily before the senate and was passed after claims to it. The claims of California,

Oregon and Nevada against the great Britain through its emissaries here was systematically violating the Paris

sea arbitration commission.

THE HOUSE SESSION.

Bills Passed to Pay West Virginia's Share of Refunded Direct Tax.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The house approaching the close of the session with unusual calmness and equanimity.
Not a sensational incident occurred on this last legislative day of the session but one. The entire day was devoted to the consideration of bills on motions to pass them under suspensions of the rules. Five recognitions for this purpose were made by the speaker, of which three passed and two failed to secure the necessary two-thirds. Those which passed were:
A substitute for Mr. Dingler's bill to authorize the president to arrange for a joint commission to consist of three representatives of this government, Great Britain, Russia and Japan, to investigate the condition of the fur seals and the regulations necessary to their preservation, and pending the report of the commission, to negotiate for a modus vivendi to protect the seals during the approaching season, and in case such a modus vivendi cannot be negotiated, to give the secretary of the treasury authority to kill seals found on the Pribyloff islands; the senate anti-lottery bill and the bill to pay the state of West Virginia its share of the direct tax refunded by the act of 1891.

The attempt to pass the senate bill to impose penalties upon corporations and railroad companies for violations of the interstate commerce law exposed an alleged scheme to secure action on the pooling bill in the senate, it being claimed that the senate would attach the pooling bill as a rider. So effective was this alleged exposure that although the bill itself was given nothing but condemnation on the floor, it was defeated.

The Woman's Convention.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Various phases of moral reform were advocated and discussed at the session of the National Council of Women. The need of organization and co-operation of women in accomplishing improvements in government methods were generally urged.

Hung For His Crime.

PLATTSBURGH, Neb., March 2.—Harry Hill, the murderer of Matthew Akeson, a Cass county farmer, has been hanged here. His neck was broken by the fall.

The Weather.

Light snow, followed by fair, continued cold; northwest winds.

A SILVER MANIFESTO.

The Anticipated Democratic Statement Issued.

CAN'T RALLY AROUND GOLD.

A Belief Expressed That a Majority of the Party Is Opposed to the Gold Standard and Favors Bimetallism—Silver Democrats Urged to Unite.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Democratic silver manifesto, which has been the chief topic of talk on that side of the house for a few days, has been made public. Names of the signers are not given. It reads as follows:

"We believe that the establishment of gold as the only monetary standard, and the elimination of silver as a full legal tender money will decrease the purchasing power of each dollar, add to the burden of all debts, decrease the market value of all other forms of property, continue and intensify business depression, and, finally, reduce the majority of the people to financial bondage.

"We believe that no party can hope for enduring success in the United States, so long as it advocates a single gold standard, and that the advocacy of such a financial policy would especially harm a party, which, like the Democratic party, derives its voting strength from those who may without reproach be called the common people; and we point to the overwhelming defeat of the party in 1894, to the opposition aroused by the veto of the seigniorage bill, and to the still more unanimous protest against the issue of gold bonds as proof that the Democratic party cannot be brought to the support of the gold standard policy.

"We believe that the money question will be the paramount issue in 1896, and will remain until settled by the intelligence and patriotism of the American voters.

"We believe that a large majority of the Democrats of the United States favor bimetallism, and realize that it can only be secured by the restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present ratio, and we assert that the majority has and should exert the right to control the policy of the party and retain the party name.

"We believe that it is the duty of the majority, and within their power, to take charge of the party organization and make the Democratic party an effective instrument in the accomplishment of needed reforms.

"It is not necessary that Democrats should surrender their convictions on other questions in order to take an active part in the settlement of the question, which at this time surpasses all others in importance.

"We believe that the rank and file of the Democratic party should at once assert themselves in the Democratic party and place it on record in favor of the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, as such coinage existed prior to 1873, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation, such gold and silver coin to be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private.

"We urge all Democrats who favor the financial policy above set forth to associate themselves together and improve their views upon the party organization; we urge all newspapers in harmony with above financial policy to place it at the head of the editorial column and assist in the immediate restoration of bimetallism."

Two Killed and One Injured.
BAYONNE, N. J., March 2.—The west-bound Royal Blue Line express has been wrecked by coming in contact with a coal train which preceded it. Two cars of the coal train jumped the track just as the express hove in sight, and before the engineer of the express could slow down and stop his train, the locomotive crashed into the coal cars, which had jumped onto the passenger track. The engineer and one fireman of the express were killed and another fireman injured.

Whipped by Whitecaps.
WINSTON, N. C., March 2.—Thirty whitecaps went to the homes of Amos and Wiley Knott in Yadkin county, and beat them unmercifully. Amos Knott is not expected to live. The whitecaps charged the brothers with reporting many moonshine distilleries in Yadkin, where revenue officers have made a number of raids recently. The whitecaps gave the two men two days within which to leave the country.

To Fight For His Country.
WASHINGTON, March 2.—Naval Cadet Takasaki, a Japanese student who has been here for the past three years at the United States naval academy at Annapolis, is about to leave for Japan to serve actively in the navy of his country.

A Jewelry Store Robbed.
JACKSON, Miss., March 2.—The jewelry store of A. Bourgeois, on the principal street of the city, has been entered by burglars, the safe broken open and five or six thousand dollars' worth of valuables stolen.

Wilson's Nomination Confirmed.
WASHINGTON, March 2.—Representative Wilson's nomination to be postmaster general has been confirmed by the senate.

IS GRACE VAUGHAN CRAZY?

Dr. Eymann Says the Escaped Actress Is Insane—Her Brother Denies It.

CLEVELAND, March 2.—Dr. Eymann of the Northern Ohio Insane asylum, from which institution Grace Vaughan, the actress, sometime a member of the Seabrook company, escaped, and is now in Chicago, says she is quite insane, and has for some time been confined in the suicidal ward, as she had on several occasions attempted to take her own life.

Dr. Eymann further stated that young Hollingsworth, her brother, had called several times to see his sister, and as his visits had invariably resulted in leaving Miss Vaughan in a highly excited condition, he had refused to permit him to see the girl on his last call. Grace Vaughan is the daughter-in-law of Dr. Jennings of this city. To a reporter young Hollingsworth said: "I did not know that my sister was in the insane asylum until last October, when I read it in a Chicago paper. Up to that time I had been writing regularly to her, and the letters were answered by Mrs. Dr. Jennings. I was led to believe that she was sick all the time. I have been to Cleveland four times since then, and I have talked with my sister at the asylum. I am convinced she is no more insane than you or I."

Mr. Hollingsworth came here to begin habeas corpus proceedings in order to secure the release of his sister, claiming that she was in her right mind and was detained against her will. The fact was then developed that Miss Vaughan had escaped from the asylum.

Carried Away by Tramps.

COLUMBUS, March 2.—Eddie Zimmerman, aged 15, has been turned over to the police for safe keeping by the Pittsburgh yardmaster. He claims his home is in Pittsburgh, his father being Henry Zimmerman, a harnessmaker, living at 10 Wylie avenue. The boy says he was enticed into a boxcar by a man whom he had seen frequently about Oak avenue, in Pittsburgh, and when he got in the car was kept a prisoner until the train reached Columbus. Here his captor joined some other tramps, and while they were "mashing the cane" he got away and the yardmaster protected him. The boy seems to tell the truth and has spent a great part of his time crying.

Accused of Smuggling a Tribe.

COLUMBUS, March 2.—In the trial of County Commissioners McDonald and Biggart and ex-Commissioner Cassidy for misconduct in office, J. O. Jewett, a contractor, testified that he had been asked for money by McDonald and Biggart, as a share of the proceeds of a contract he held, and when he grew indignant McDonald laughed, and said that was the way they made up their campaign expenses. The defense laid the foundation for the impeachment of this testimony.

Can't Operate in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, March 2.—Insurance Superintendent Hahn notified the Progressive Endowment Guild of America that it could not transact business in Ohio. The institution was chartered under the laws of Virginia, Governor O'Fallon being at the head of it. It purports to be a fraternal society, but seems to be transacting insurance and building association business.

A Receiver Appointed.

BELLAIRE, O., March 2.—Owen Mehen has been appointed receiver of the Pittsburgh Coal company. The company was damaged by the flood of 1884 and never recovered. They own 5,000 acres of coal land valued at $9,000. It will be sold.

Navigation Being Resumed.

CINCINNATI, March 2.—With the rain and milder weather the Ohio river is rising here and at all points above. The ice is passing away or sinking so that navigation will soon be entirely resumed.

New Ohio Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The senate has confirmed the following Ohio postmasters: Mary V. Proctor, Lebanon; Hamilton Eaton, Barnesville; Thomas Hunt, Clyde.

Councils and Mayor Indicted.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 2.—The grand jury has indicted Mayor Duncan and both boards of the general council for passing and signing an ordinance paying the salaries of police officers in the face of a recent report of the grand jury calling attention to policemen retaining fees that should be turned into the city treasury.

A Reception to a Methodist Bishop.

JACKSON, Miss., March 2.—A grand reception has been given to Bishop Galaway by the citizens of Jackson. He has just returned from a tour around the world in the interests of Methodism. Distinguished citizens spoke, and the bishop responded. The occasion was one of the greatest ever witnessed here.

Hung For Killing a Convict.

FRANKFORD, Ky., March 2.—George McGee has been hung here for killing one Thomas, a colored convict in the penitentiary, on July 3 last. He had had a personal encounter with Thomas and had been punished for it. At the first opportunity he sneaked up behind Thomas and stabbed him to death.

One Rebel Band Dispersed.

104 PERSONS KILLED.

A Fearful Railroad Disaster in Mexico.

NEARLY 100 PEOPLE INJURED.

An American Engineer Allowed an Excursion Train to Run Full Speed Down a Grade—Locomotive and Five Cars Plunged Over a Mountain Side.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 2.—One of the most frightful accidents in the history of the Mexican railroads, resulting in the killing of 104 persons and the serious, if not fatal, injury of nearly a hundred others, has occurred on the Inter-Oceanic railroad at a point about 25 miles from this city. A few days ago a great number of persons left the capital and the towns in the vicinity to go on a pilgrimage to the Catholic shrine at Sacro Monte. A long train, aboard of which there were 1,200 passengers, was returning from the place of pilgrimage, when the disaster occurred. All went well until a point on the line about midway between Temamla and Tenango was reached. On this part of the road there is a steep incline, the line at one place on it having a sharp curve where it runs close to the edge of a high precipice. This is one of the most dangerous places on the road and was rendered more so by the fact that the track here was not in the best of condition.

As the train ran down the incline the speed began to increase and it was soon running at a frightful rate. The passengers ceased their laughing and joking and looked at each other with a strange fear depicted in their faces. Steadily the momentum of the train, which was now swaying and bounding fearfully, increased and soon the dangerous high curve was struck. As the pilot wheels of the engine took the curve the locomotive swayed outward and then back. As the drivers worked the curve the engine again swayed heavily and then either jumped the track or turned a rail. It dashed across the scanty space between the rails and the edge of the chasm and then plunged downwards. One after another three coaches filled with passengers dashed after it and piled up in a mass of wreckage at the foot of the precipice. The next two coaches also jumped the track, but most fortunately did not go over the edge of the precipice. As the fifth coach left the rails, it twisted and broke the coupling connecting it with the coaches behind it. These coaches kept the rails and passed safely around the curve. After running a considerable distance, they were stopped by the handbrakes.

When the engine and the three coaches fell to the bottom of the ravine there was a fearful crash and mingled with it were the shrieks of the affrighted passengers, which could easily be heard above the shrieking of the escaping steam of the engine, which was knocked to pieces by the fall.

The passengers in the two derailed coaches at the edge of the precipice got out as quickly as possible and many of them fell on their knees and offered thanks for their escape from a most awful death.

In the meantime a number of passengers in the other coaches had returned to the scene of the wreck, and devoted themselves to the work of rescuing those imprisoned in the wreck. The sight here was a gruesome one. The carriages were shattered and a majority of the occupants were lying beneath the wreckage. The shrieks and moans of the injured were heart-rending, while many of the unhurt women and children moaned and wailed in the agony of terror. Here and there among the debris could be seen an upturned face, the eyes fixed in the glassy stare of death, the features distorted with unknown fear. Again, what had been a face could be seen crushed out of all semblance to humanity. Here was an arm, there was a leg that had been severed from a trunk lying perhaps 50 feet away. The sight was one that will never be forgotten by those who witnessed it.

The train hands were Americans and some of them, as soon as possible telegraphed news of the disaster to the nearest station. A special relief train, with surgeons, an ambulance, medical supplies, etc., was promptly dispatched to the scene. Everything possible was done to alleviate the sufferings of the injured, some of whom were in such agony that they prayed for death to relieve them from their tortures. Aided by some of the men who were in the coaches that did not go over, the railroad employees and the relief corps soon cleared away the wreckage sufficiently to allow the extrication of the dead and injured. One hundred and four dead and 85 wounded were taken out of the wreck. The injured who could stand to be moved were brought to the City of Mexico on the special train and taken to the Military hospital, which was thrown open to the sufferers by orders from President Diaz.

So far as can be learned the accident was due to the negligence of the engineer. It is stated that when the train entered the incline he made no attempt to check its speed by the use of air-brakes or handbrakes. The engineer and fireman are believed to be under the wreck of the engine and tender, and why the train was allowed to run practically wild on one of the most dangerous sections of the road, will probably never be known.

As is the case in Mexico, when a railroad accident occurs, the feeling is very bitter against the railroad company and the train hands. All the latter who survived will be held to strict accountability under the Mexican law, although as a matter of fact, they were in no way responsible for the disaster.

Said Not Seriously Ill.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Anton Seidl, who was obliged by sickness to return to New York from a tour with his orchestra, is not seriously ill. A severe cold developed into grippe and he is confined to his bed.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Four characteristic bums spent the night at city hall. They were cold and asked to be locked up.

John M. Stewart, of Hookstown, will move his family to this city next week, and will reside on Washington street.

The effects of Lizzie Smith were sold this afternoon by Constable Lyon to satisfy the judgment of Thomas Abrams.

The improvements at the armory will be completed on Monday, and the boys expect to see it a comfortable place before the end of the week.

First Spiritual and Religious society meets Sunday at 3 p. m. in Ferguson & Hill's hall. Subject, "Clouds of Witnesses." Clairvoyant tests after the lecture.

The wagon of Dairyman Wilson was overturned uptown yesterday, and the milk was spilled over the ground. The only damage was the loss of the lactical fluid.

The ladies of the Eastern Star are arranging for a banquet in the near future. The event will, as usual, be among the most enjoyable of secret society entertainments.

Doctor Lee will begin a series of special meetings at the First Presbyterian church, to be held every night except Saturday until the end of the following week. Pulpit illustrations will be used at the majority of the meetings.

Doctor Ogden says that there is no contagion in the city at present. In future when death is caused by a contagious disease he proposes to have the body buried within 24 hours. This is the rule, and the doctor will have it enforced.

Persons living in this city have been informed that a number of men employed at the Tiltonville pottery have received notice that their services are no longer required. The men believe that the cause of discharge originated in the strike of a few weeks ago.

Rev. Anna Shaw, D. D., the celebrated lecturer, who is to speak in this city in a few weeks, is a minister in good standing in the Methodist Protestant church, and while she is here Reverend Whitehead will endeavor to have her deliver a sermon. She is a forcible pulpit orator.

A number of Maccabees will meet at the Grand hotel on Monday evening for the purpose of arranging a trip to Calcutta on Tuesday night. Many persons in that vicinity are interested in the order and have asked that a delegation from Liverpool, and Organizer Burt, come and see them.

A farmer from the Calcutta neighborhood let his team stand near the Standard pottery yesterday at noon without hitching the horses to a post. When the whistle sounded the animals became frightened and were running away, when Jack Salmon and an unknown man caught the maddened steeds.

A number of well-known young men of the city contemplate the founding of a bicycle livery, as they call it, when summer comes. The idea is to rent bicycles as the liverymen hire out their horses, the price being so low that those who admire a bicycle and cannot afford to purchase one cannot neglect the sport.

Residents on Seventh street and teamsters compelled to drive that way are complaining because of a bill board in that part of the city. Small boys have torn the paper from the board and the wind has scattered it all over the street. It not only serves to make the place unsightly but has been the means of frightening a number of teams.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the birth of Robert Walters, and he received as a remembrance what is probably the handsomest lap robe in the city. It was made by his aunt, Mrs. Sarah E. West, of Lexington, K., and is of some material, knit, backed by cloth of pleasing color. The lady is over 60 years of age, but is so well preserved as to be frequently mistaken for a much younger woman.

The comrades of General Lyon post of the Grand Army held an intensely interesting meeting last night, when matters of moment were discussed in a manner which brought the best powers of the old soldiers into play. Comrades who have not been attending the post of late are missing matters and questions which are of vital import. The post is in splendid condition, and everything moving harmoniously.

The case of the 13 men against Schneider & Smith for wages is assuming a more complicated aspect, three days having been given by the squire yesterday before a new trial to decide the ownership of property. Schneider claims that John Rinehart furnished Smith's part of the money, and the latter had no right to confess judgment, because he had no interest. The attorneys continued their wrangle at the trial yesterday, and afforded the audience some little amusement.

To the Public.

There are many people still holding checks for photos upon Harry MacKenzie's Photo gallery, and these people are anxious to have said checks made good. Hundreds of delighted patrons of this gallery, located in the First National Bank building, East Liverpool, have testified that the pictures taken by Mr. MacKenzie far surpass, in exquisite style and superb finish, the efforts of any and all other artists in this section. The present owners of the gallery will make all outstanding checks good for the next 30 days, ending with April 2, 1895. Pictures will be finished promptly and satisfactorily when promised. The prices are far lower than ever before known in this section. On and after April 2, 1895, the crystal type finish pictures will be furnished patrons at $1.25 per dozen. (The same pictures as are now being supplied, through check, at $3). The enamel finish picture will be furnished patrons, now and hereafter, at $3 per dozen. The photographer in charge challenges comparison on the part of any and all photographers of this vicinity. You will do well to call at the

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at Potts drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.

Amusements.

The Corse Payton company will place $1,000 in gold in the window of Jas. E. Orr's store Monday from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., as a guarantee of their ability to refund twice the amount paid for tickets to any person not entirely satisfied with the performance. The Parisian Princess will be the play and the prices are only 10, 20 and 30 cents. Ladies free Monday with one paid ticket if purchased before 6 p. m.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, aiding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50 cent per bottle at T. L. Pott's drug store.

ASSIST NATURE

a little now and then in removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels and you thereby avoid a multitude of distressing derangements and diseases, and will have less frequent need of your doctor's service.

Of all known agents for this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best. Once used, they are always in favor. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. Hence, their great popularity with sufferers from habitual constipation, piles and their attendant discomfort and manifold derangements. The "Pellets" are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system. No care is required while using them; they do not interfere with the diet, habits or occupation, and produce no pain, griping or shock to the system. They act in a mild, easy and natural way and there is no reaction afterward. Their help lasts.

The Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. In proof of their superior excellence, it can be truthfully said, that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial. Put up in sealed glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable. One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are shock cathartic. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, or to relieve distress from over-eating, take one after dinner. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules; any child will readily take them.

Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

That Checker Contest.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—A few days ago Mitchison challenged me to play a serious game of checkers, and in yesterday's paper appeared a challenge from Ed Clayton. I will make it an object for them to play. My wrestling match with Allison takes place at Turner hall next Monday; if Clayton and Mitchison will play two games on the stage before the wrestling begins and two games between each bout I will give $1 for each game won and agree to play the winner in the future for $25 a side.

Will Provide Boxes.

Clerk Hanley was arranging today for any part the women may desire to take in the Republican primaries, and hopes that there will be a good turn out. As the women can only vote for the two members of the board of education, they must be provided with a separate box into which they can place their ballots. They have not yet made any nominations, and it is presumed that there will be some Republican women who will not only stand by the ticket, but will help to make it.

Some Club News.

The Tourists' club, of East End, will give an entertainment and social in their rooms in East End next Monday evening.

The Chevalier club will dance in Bradshaw hall on Thursday evening of next week. It will be the most pretentious affair the organization has ever attempted.

On Thursday evening of next week the Phoenix club will give another of their enjoyable entertainments.

TWO BUILDINGS COLLAPSE.

A Number Dead and Others Injured in New York.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The building 151 Orchard street, one of a row of 5-story buildings in course of construction there, has fallen. One man was killed and eight injured. The dead man is John Wilson, a laborer.

The injured are: Wilson, brother of the dead man, knee badly injured and left arm broken; William Wilkinson, broken leg and back; Frank Thornton, internally injured; John Thornton, his brother, internally injured; Glacie, both legs broken and skull fractured, will probably die; George Gamble, 38 years old, both legs broken; Patrick Malloy, right leg broken; Patrick Flaherty, back injured; Frank Barbara, bruised about the head, is still in the ruins. He says he is not badly hurt; Arthur Klein fell four stories with the building and received only some slight bruises about the head.

A house at the corner of Forty-third street and Tenth avenue, which was being torn down by some 40 laborers, fell with a crash, carrying several workmen to the basement, three floors below, where they were almost completely covered by tons of bricks, dry mortar and iron beams. The dead are: Hugh Cullen, 40 years; Angelo Vicor, 31 years; John O'Connor, 55 years, and James Malloy.

The injured are: Thomas McConnon; Edward Meaney, M. E. Keeley, Louis Stein, Felix Moran, Charles Bobson and Pat Curran.

WANTS OFFICIALS IMPEACHED.

A Minnesota Populist After the Governor and Superintendent of Banks.

ST. PAUL, March 2.—Representative Brevig, a Populist member from Renneville county, has presented a long preamble and resolution charging that Moses D. Kenyon, public examiner and superintendent of banks, had certified to the good condition of certain prominent financial institutions of St. Paul and Minneapolis, when in fact those institutions were insolvent; that such facts had been called to the attention of former governors by statements submitted, and that the present governor, D. M. Clough, had now had one month in which to have looked over such papers. The resolution then provides that a committee of five be appointed to examine thoroughly all the charges, and if the evidence warrants such action, to draw up the proper papers for impeachment proceedings against Bank Examiner Kenyon and Governor Clough.

It is not thought likely that it will be adopted, although the friends of the governor and bank examiner may insist on the adoption of the resolution in order to prove their innocence of any official or personal wrongdoing.

Had to Be Hung Twice.

ATLANTA, March 2.—Joe Dean, a coal-black negro who murdered A. B. Leigh, a well-to-do farmer of Campbell, for his money and afterward confessed the crime, has been hanged in Fairburn. By order of the court the execution was to be private, but the crowd of 5,000 excited people that had gathered tore down the high fence erected around the gallows and made it public. The wretched man had to be hanged twice. The first time the rope broke. Like a dead man he was taken back on the scaffold and again swung off.

A Gain For the Banks.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The New York sub-treasury's daily exports for the past week indicate results of operations as follows: Total receipts, $25,500,000; total payments, $13,530,000, including $2,000,000 currency sent to other offices of the treasury department. This indicates a loss of $12,000,000 by the banks to the sub-treasury, but from that sum should be deducted $1,250,000 foreign gold which does not affect the banks at all. Bankers estimate that the banks have gained about $2,000,000 by the currency movement during the week.

Died of a Broken Heart.

HOBOKEN, N. J., March 2.—Mrs. Helen Seims, aged 52 years, has died of a broken heart. She was the mother of the 17-year-old boy—John Seims—who, together with Henry Knapp, a boy of his own age, were murdered and robbed recently at Miller's hotel, Williamsburg. John Bohem is now under indictment in Brooklyn for the murders.
